Impact of Collision Avoidance Systems

- CCC estimates technology will reduce accident frequency by ~30% in next 25-30 years
- As per industry studies, decline should be somewhat offset by increases in average cost of repair (increased expense of technology) and vehicle miles driven
- Large operators could also mitigate market decline by continued market share gains in consolidating industry

COVID-19 Impact and Outlook

- COVID 19 began to significantly impact the business just prior to the end of Q1 2020 and continues to impact results.
- Boyd continues to take proactive steps to adapt to the new environment, including increased health and safety practices such as contactless drop off & pickup, enhanced cleaning practices, social distancing, and wearing personal protective equipment.
- Boyd has been bringing back resources and restarting suspended production capacity as demand for collision repair services has risen. Boyd has also recommenced completing and funding acquisitions and growth starting in mid August, after a short pause that began in April.

Canadian Emergency Wage Subsidy ("CEWS")

- CEWS was put into place on April 11, 2020 and has now been extended to June 2021
- As is the objective of the program, Boyd has been able to retain more of its employees than would have been possible, absent the subsidy
- Boyd will continue to make applications under the CEWS program as long as eligibility criteria are met
- Amounts expected to be received in 2021 will be significantly lower than those recorded in 2020 due to program changes announced to date
- Adjusted EBITDA for the year ended December 31, 2020 benefited from the CEWS in the amount of approximately $16.9 million
